

The Joyful Butterfly

Once upon a time, in a vibrant garden, lived a tiny butterfly named Flutter.

Flutter loved to dance among the colorful flowers, sipping sweet nectar and basking in the warm sunlight.

One day, a big storm swept through the garden, knocking down the flowers and soaking Flutter's wings.

But Flutter didn't give up.

She dried her wings in the sun and helped the other creatures clean up the garden.

When the storm passed, the garden was more beautiful than ever, and Flutter danced among the flowers, happier than ever before.